
”Good morning, Good evening” : People Face Urban Renewal

Emilie Balteau*†¹

¹Centre Pierre Naville (CPN) – Evry Paris Saclay University : EA2543 – UFR de Sciences de l’Homme et de la Société 2 rue du Facteur Cheval 91000 Evry, France

Abstract

In a suburb of Auxerre (France), the three old towers gave way to small houses. Inside, inhabitants tell me this movement. What it conveys of breaks. What it transports of continuity - that of a common condition, all in all popular, and alive. From time to time, the word of political decision makers reminds us that this reality is also the fruit of public policies.

Keywords: Urban Renewal, Working classes, space

*Speaker

†Corresponding author: ebalteau@yahoo.fr